Newark and Licking county men with the 324th field artillery of the 158th artillery brigade, which was assigned to the 32nd division about the time the armistice was signed, will make up a part of the supporting forces of the divisions which will occupy that portion of German territory in a 30-kilometer area across the river from Coblenz, according to an Associated Press dispatch to the Advocate. Letters recently received from the Newark boys in this unit, stated that they expected to move toward the Rhine shortly. Since those letters were written, the American army of occupation has reached its objectives and is preparing now to establish itself to spend the winter on the Rhine, where it will remain until the final peace treaty is signed and ratified.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 13.—The American army marching into Germany has come to a standstill at the Rhine. General Pershing's report for yesterday says there was no advance during the day.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Coblenz, by courier to Nancy, Wednesday, Dec. 11.—Sale of firearms have been prohibited in Coblenz by order of the burgomaster who is co-operating with the American forces. All firearms are directed to turn over firearms to the municipal authorities. German militiamen and discharged soldiers, who have been assisting in police duties, are discharged by the burgomaster's order. It is necessary to turn the municipal affairs entirely over to the Americans.

All theatres and restaurants are affected by the order issued yesterday directing cafes to close at 11 o'clock. These places are forbidden to burn lights after that hour. Hotels also are affected, but in a lesser degree. German opera has been presented at the largest theatre here within the past few days. The order as to lights, it is explained, was necessary because of the shortage of coal.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Coblenz, by courier to Nancy, Tuesday, Dec. 10.—Sentries of the American and German armies face each other across the Rhine tonight.

From Andernach, a few miles northward to the British lines, American forces hold the west bank of the stream. South of Coblenz advanced elements of the American army have reached the river. It is expected that the movement across the Rhine will be well under way tomorrow. The First and Third divisions have been designated to occupy the advance positions along the 30-kilometer area of the Rhine, constituting the bridgehead stipulated in the armistice. The 32nd, 90th, 4th and 42nd will occupy positions in support of the advance lines.

The 1st, 3rd and 4th divisions are of the regular army. The 32nd is made up of National guard regiments from Michigan and Wisconsin. Texas and Oklahoma national army men make up the 90th, while the 42nd is the "Rainbow" division.

The 32nd and perhaps the 90th will cross at Coblenz and the others will use the bridges north and south of the city. Arrangements have also been made to use the necessary to expedite the crossing.

Engineer regiments have inspected all bridges and roads beyond the river, while a commission made up of German officers and civilians has given every facility for the Americans to collect information as to the territory that is to be occupied east of the Rhine.

Across the river from Coblenz, in the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein, there has been a small force of Germans, but it has been withdrawn and an American force entered the fortress today, following a request to that effect from the German commandant. The place informed the Americans that by tomorrow the entire German army, with the exception of small detachments of guards, would be nine miles from the Rhine.

A bottle thrown from a window by a woman at an American soldier has been the only overtact of hostilities reported since the Americans entered Coblenz. The incident was regarded as so trivial that it was left to the local police to deal with the woman. There has developed however, within the past 24-hours an unmistakable air of independence on the part of the people, reflecting their conviction that the Americans are going to deal with them much more delicately than have the French or British with the people north and south of the city.

The position of the Americans is slightly peculiar. Coblenz was informally occupied by a battalion which arrived on Sunday and which served only as a guard, which probably would have been inadequate in event of serious trouble.

The burgomaster has published only rules covering local conditions. The latest one orders the closing of cafes at 11 o'clock in the evening. It is estimated at his office that there are sufficient food stuffs in this district to last until February after which assistance will be imperative.

AUSTRIAN NAVAL BASE

Amsterdam, Dec. 13.—An American squadron arrived at Pola, formerly one of the principal Austrian naval bases and has taken over the command of the port. Two Star war vessels in the harbor have hoisted the American flag, according to a telegram from Laibach, reporting the arrival of Americans.

The picture printed above shows the arrival of the German armistice delegation at the field headquarters of Marshal Foch, in a railroad car behind the lines, to ask for an armistice. This act sounded Germany's end and the close of the world war. The allies' formalism forced the delegates, M. Erzberger, General von Cundell,

General von Winterfeld and Count Oberdorff, to ask plainly for an armistice. The picture shows the military members of the German delegation saluting Foch and his aids. The allied heads are returning the salute. Erzberger and Oberdorff have removed their hats. Being civilians they did not salute in military style.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 13.—Every capital ship of the American navy now in Europe, including the dreadnought squadron which have been operating with the British main fleet during the war, will return to American waters today. They may be expected to reach New York about December 23, and a naval review will take place there to celebrate the homecoming.

The dreadnoughts ordered to return are division number six, commanded by Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman, battleships New York, flagship, Texas, Wisconsin, Florida, Alabama and Nevada; division number nine, commanded by Rear Admiral Thomas Rogers, battleships Utah, flagship, Oklahoma and Arizona.

It is understood that much of the Atlantic fleet which has remained on this side will be mobilized at New York to meet the ships that have shared in the defeat of the submarine and the crushing of German sea power. Secretary Daniels will go to New York on the presidential yacht Mayflower for the review.

Admiral Rodman's division for the past year acted as the sixth battle squadron in the British grand fleet. It won high praise from Admiral Beatty for its efficiency and shared with the grand fleet the acceptance of the surrender of the German high seas fleet. It is now at the British base at the west coast of Scotland.

FRENCH LABOR WILL NOT TAKE FORMAL PART

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Thursday, Dec. 12.—French labor will not take part in the ceremonies of formally welcoming President Wilson to Paris. Premier Clemenceau informed delegates of the general labor federation that they would be allowed to present an address to Mr. Wilson only in case the American president gave his personal permission. The protest, therefore has been abandoned and the federation has asked its adherents to join with the people in cheering Mr. Wilson on his arrival.

London, Dec. 13.—Several scores of detectives, the pick of former Emperor William's force of sentries at Potsdam are staying at Amerongen, shadowing every movement of Herr Hohenzollern, according to the American correspondents of the Express who claims to have talked with some of these men. Herr Hohenzollern is said to be in constant dread of bomb throwers and other assassins and always carries a revolver.

The former's suite and detectives have added at least 100 to the population of the village of Amerongen, the correspondent states.

COURT NAMES WM. C. MILLER
RECEIVER FOR JEWETT CAR CO.Director and Stockholder From Wheeling Said Difficultly
In Getting Materials During War, to Complete
Contracts is Cause of Action.

Upon the application of Paul Reymann of Wheeling, W. Va. late Thursday afternoon, Common Pleas Judge T. B. Fulton named Captain William C. Miller of Newark receiver for the Jewett Car company. Miller gave bond in the sum of $20,000. The application by Reymann was filed by Attorneys Flory & Flory of this city and J. Bernard Handman of Wheeling. Reymann is a director and stockholder in the company.

The petition alleged that the company has over $400,000 worth of unfilled contracts on hand and that it has been impossible to secure material to complete the work; that a number of creditors of the company are threatening judgment, shut down its business and thereby deprive the company of its power to carry out the contracts.

The petition declared that to prevent the loss and destruction of its business and good will, and to prevent the company from becoming insolvent and in order to prevent heavy loss to the creditors, bondholders and stockholders, that it is necessary that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the property, business and manufacturing plant of the Jewett Car company and to operate the plant to carry out and complete the existing contracts, which the company now has in a partly completed state and which such time as such recovery may be terminated in that manner which may be determined to be to the best interests of the creditors, bondholders of that company.

The petition asked that the receiver be authorized to obtain the money necessary to operate the plant so as to carry out and complete the existing contracts of the company. Flory & Flory of this city and J. Bernard Handman of Wheeling filed the petition as attorneys for Reymann.

After hearing the petition Judge T. B. Fulton named W. C. Miller as receiver, requiring him to give bond in the sum of $20,000.

FORMER OHIO OFFICER PRAISES
CONDUCT OF AMERICAN TROOPSNever in History of War, Says General Stansberry, Has Endurance of Man Been Tested as Since Sept. 26
—Yanks Respond Willingly

Columbus, Dec. 13.—That old military axiom that any troops having lost more than 10 per cent. in killed or wounded could not be depended to "carry through" has been shattered during the present war, is the declaration of Major General Stansberry, of Cincinnati, originally assigned with the 37th (Ohio National Guard) division in a letter to Governor Cox and made public by the governor today.

"These brave men of ours," General Stansberry said, "with losses exceeding 50 and 60 per cent., go forward to the assault with the morale unshaken, eager to close with the Boche and flash their bayonets. I have seen them go on the spikes on their faces borrowing a light for their cigarettes. We have been astounded. Never in the history of war has there been anything so magnificent."

General Stansberry said never was the endurance of man so tried as in France since September 26 and added that "never have men so willingly responded." He says the men knew if they were able to keep on going they might be able to end it before winter and they were there with the punch.

"I concluded by saying, 'Never did an army come back from war as clean and mainly as this American army of ours is coming and coming as they are with lessons learned of self reliance, stimulation, conversation and above all of respect for authority. They will leave their imprint on our national life for years to come. I am thankful to have had a part in it.'"

City Employes Strike and
of City.

Montreal, Dec. 13.—Montreal was quiet today after a night of disorder growing out of the strike of 1500 city employes for higher pay. While the efforts of Mayor Martin to effect a settlement last night failed, city officials were hopeful today that the strikers would accept the offer and the general labor council to act as mediators in the dispute.

With all policemen and firemen joining the strikers, the city was helpless for a time last night from the depredations of gangs of hoodlums, who looted stores and robbed citizens and assaulted volunteer police. Various civic organizations formed bodies to safeguard the city's interests and when a patrol of the streets was maintained, the disorder died down.

All large stores and mercantile establishments were closed early in the evening upon the advice of the director of public safety and employes were instructed in fire drill.

In addition to demands for increased wages the police call for the dismissal of the three heads of the department.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 13.—Testimony that Edward Lyell Fox, a writer, was sent to Germany in 1915 by the German embassy to write German propaganda which was distributed by the Hearst International News Service, was presented today to the senate committee investigating brewers' and enemy propaganda, by Captain G. B. Lester, of the army intelligence service.

In response to questions Captain Lester said there is nothing in the army intelligence record showing whether either Mr. Hearst or managers of the International News Service knew that Fox was in the pay of the German government.

The witness read a telegram sent from the German embassy in Washington to the German foreign office September 9, 1914, saying:

"Chicago Tribune friendly paper."

Captain Lester said that Fox confessed to him that while in Germany he had an understanding that he would write anything he was told to write by the German publicity bureau at Berlin.

The witness said he obtained from Fox an admission that an article appearing in the New York American on September 18, 1915, dealing with alleged atrocities by Russian Cossacks was written by him under instructions from German officers as a means of offsetting the stories of German atrocities in Belgium that had begun to come out about that time.

"I obtained from Fox his original notes written in lead pencil on the Cossack story," Captain Lester said, and he admitted however, that the atrocity referred to and that to his knowledge none of them ever were committed. Fox was given courtesies from German officers that no other correspondent was able to obtain.

Captain Lester said that as a result of a request by President Wilson at a personal interview with William Randolph Hearst, changes were made in the film play "Patna," produced serially in the United States early in 1917, picturing Japan and Mexico in an alliance against the United States. The witness cited this film as one bearing ear marks of German propaganda.

Peru indicated a wish that the good offices of the United States might be employed to bring about a settlement while the Chilean government contented itself with expressing appreciation of the spirit of the offer.

Brest, Dec. 13.—President Wilson left Brest for Paris at 4 o'clock this afternoon. President Wilson's progress from the pier to his train was amidst a vociferous welcome from the throngs in the streets.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Brest, Dec. 13.—President Wilson reached the harbor of Brest on board the steamer George Washington at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and within an hour stepped on shore—the first time an American president had trod European soil.

There was a thundering cannonade as the president's launch left the George Washington and landed at pier No. 3. It was escorted to the tribune amid cheers and salvos, and the notes of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The arrival was the culmination of an imposing naval spectacle which began as the presidential fleet rounded the outer capes, then passed the entrance and moved majestically into the harbor where the George Washington anchored at the head of a long double-column of American dreadnaughts and destroyers, and the units of a French cruiser squadron.

The presidential fleet was first sighted at 11:30 o'clock this morning, 15 miles off shore. The sea was calm and the sky bright, and the ships were steadily brightening after a dark and gloomy morning. It was more than an hour later that the ships were signalled at the entrance of the harbor and a great cheer arose from the waiting crowd as the cloud of black smoke showed that the presidential fleet was near.

Ahead came a single destroyer, showing the way to the fleet and clearing the harbor of the huge hulk of the battle ship, Pennsylvania and Wyoming, flying respectively the flags of Admiral Mayo, commander of the Atlantic fleet, and Vice Admiral Sims, commander of the American naval forces in European waters. Just back of them moved the George Washington, bearing the president, flanked on either side by the battleships Arkansas, Florida, Utah, Nevada, Oklahoma, New York, Texas and Arizona, by French cruisers and by a great flotilla of American and French torpedo-boat destroyers.

The entrance to the harbor is a narrow strait, flanked on each side by crowning the towering cliffs on each side. Through this avenue the imposing pageant moved, each of the 10 forces contributing its cannonade and the 10 American battleships answering gun for gun. As the fleet neared the inner harbor the land batteries and the assembled war craft took up the thunderous salute, while the quays, the hills and the terraces of the old Breton city rang with cheers from the enthusiastic multitude.

At the same time all the war craft, mechanicians and transports dressed ship and manned the yards, and the strains of the American anthem floated over the water mingling with the roar of the guns and the shouts of the vast crowds.

The George Washington came to anchor a mile off shore, while the battleships ranged themselves in double-column on either side.

President Wilson witnessed the spectacle from the deck of his steamer, waving greetings and acknowledgments as the "dreadnaughts" thronged ashore, and the minister of marine, who were at Brest to meet the president on behalf of the French government, boarded the George Washington to extend their first greeting.

American officials also went on board to make the arrangements for landing. Day broke dark and gloomy over Brest this morning. Heavy clouds shut out sunshine and sky, but the down-pour of rain which prevailed yesterday abated during the night and the wind subsided to a gentle breeze blowing from the sea. The mists which have veiled the harbor for several days have blown away and the splendid panorama of the harbor stands out clearly.

The avenues and terraces leading from the harbor are still drenched but an army of laborers have been clearing the mud from the route which President Wilson will cover and wind-torn decorations have been replaced with new ones.

Within the harbor there is a scene of animation. With the first break of day fleets of warships and merchant craft broke out their colors and dressed ship with long lines of streamers. A group of French cruisers, in their war-

The Hague, Thursday, Dec. 12.—Switzerland refused to admit the former German emperor when he fled from Germany and Holland ought to have followed the example of the republic, declared M. Kavenstein a revolutionary socialist in the lower house of the Dutch parliament today.

The former emperor, he continued, should not be handed over to the allies but should be sent to Germany for trial by a people's tribunal. The Dutch workers will oppose every attempt to drag Holland into a war on the question of the former emperor.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The German government on July 10, 1914, informed about 130 German civilian employes at a conference in Berlin that a world-war would be started soon, Captain G. B. Lester of the army intelligence service testified today before the senate committee investigating German and brewers' propaganda.

These employes then were dispatched to all parts of the world—31 coming to the United States, to stimulate Pan-German propaganda, Captain Lester declared. He said his information came from an unnamed informant now interned in this country.

The German propagandists landed in the United States in August, 1914, on the same boat with Dr. H. F. Albert, known as the paymaster of the enemy propaganda system in this country, and immediately formed the nucleus of the German propaganda.

BUSINESS MEN QUIZ DOCTORS

Medical Men Are Asked For Information Concerning
Flu Epidemic — New Cases Are Few.

The past twenty-four hours have been spent in an interchange of conferences between the business men of the city and the executive or flu committee of the Red Cross. Based on the theory that the controversy between the committee and the board of health was injurious to the town and was getting no results the business men took the matter up.

Yesterday afternoon a committee called on the Red Cross committee, and a clash of ideas took place. As a continuation of the meeting, and as one member stated in the effort to get the thing finally adjusted, a meeting was held at 1230 this afternoon in the private dining room at the McDaniel restaurant. The physicians of the city had been invited to attend, with a view of getting their conception of the actual conditions.

With the Red Cross committee demanding that some action be taken with regard to quarantining and the board of health maintaining that the conditions in the city did not necessitate the quarantine, the strife has waged for the past several days, taking the form mostly of signed statements each day from the conflicting parties.

Health Officer Knauss stated that the new cases reported today were one-half less than those reported a week ago, or but one new case to every 1000 persons. Yesterday with all reports in, the number of new cases were about 30 and the indications today were that they would run less than that.

The meeting at noon today was prepared with the determination that if the physicians of the city could show that conditions were such that the town should be closed, that the business men would petition the board of health to take that action. The meeting was scheduled to cover only a short time, but the conclusion was delayed until the middle of the afternoon.

point, swinging a anchor with a score of French destroyers about them. Near at hand loomed the big liner La France, used as a hospital ship, but about to resume her trans-Atlantic service. American destroyers, naval yachts and small craft glided about the harbor and further off lay great flotillas of merchant ships, transports, freighters and quaint Breton fishing craft. Two American freighters were still unloading army supplies here and an American transport was preparing to take more American troops homeward. It was a scene stirring with activity and one which glowed with color as by a touch of sunlight.

Since early morning a fleet of airplanes has hovered over the entrance to the harbor, keeping an outlook for the approaching fleet. On shore there was equal animation, as vast throngs of Bretons in their picturesque headgear packed the streets and massed along the quays and terraces overlooking the harbor. Early in the day French and American soldiers lined the streets and took assigned positions along the Cours Dajot, the handsome promenade leading from the commercial harbor to the city over which President Wilson will pass.

The whole city is a mass of bunting with Place President Wilson hung with streamers, and the entire trans-Atlantic presidential route is lined with Venetian masts, flags and transparencies.

About 9 o'clock the French cruiser squadron consisting of the Admiral Aube, Conde and Montcalm, with a number of destroyers, moved out of the harbor amid the screech of sirens, to meet the incoming fleet off shore.

A special train bearing Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister; Georges Lemaitre, the French minister of marine, and other distinguished officials, officers of the army and navy, and the deputes, arrived this morning and another train brought American Ambassadors Sharp, Colonel E. M. House, General Pershing, General Bliss, Admiral Benson, and other prominent Americans.

The program for the day fixes the arrival of the president at about noon, with an hour allowed for moving to the anchorage and the president's review of passing warships. The French ministers will board the George Washington at 130 o'clock to convey first greetings to Mr. Wilson. At the same time, American officials and Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, who has been here singing for soldiers, will go on board the ship.

Mr. Wilson's landing is fixed for 3 o'clock when he will be received in a handsome pavilion on quay No. 3 and will formally receive from M. Pichon a welcome as the guest of the French nation. Mr. Wilson's ride through the Cours Dajot will begin at half-past three. He will go direct to his train and leave for Paris at 4 o'clock. This program may be varied only slightly because of the weather and shipping conditions.

WILSON WILL CALM EUROPE'S QUARREL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Brest, Dec. 12.—The Mayor Goude of Brest in greeting President Wilson as he landed here today said:
"Mr. President—I feel the deepest emotion in presenting to you the welcome of the Breton population. The ship bringing you to this port is the symbol under the auspices of which the legions of your pacific citizens agree to arms in the grand cause of independence. Under the same auspices today you bring to this port the will of Europe the comfort of your own authorized voice in the debates which will calm our quarrels."

"Mr. President, upon this Breton soil our hearts are unanimous in hailing you as the great savior of the world. Tomorrow it will be our entire nation which will acclaim you and your whole people will thrill with enthusiasm over the eminent statesman who is the champion of the aspirations toward justice and peace."

"This old Breton city has the honor of first saluting you. In order to perpetuate this honor to our descendants, the municipal council has asked you to present your address as president of the world, at being privileged to incline themselves before the illustrious demagogue who presides over the destinies of the great republic of the United States."

The mayor then presented the engraved address of the council, which said in part:
"Being the first to welcome the president of the United States to France, we respectfully salute the eminent statesman who so nobly personifies the ideals of liberty and the rights of man. In order to perpetuate this event through ages we direct that these proceedings be deposited in the city archives. Long live President Wilson! Long live the champion and apostle of international justice!"

The president delivered a brief address after landing at Brest, thanking Mayor Goude for the warm welcome given him. He then drove through the cheering crowds, the frantic ovation continuing until he reached the railway station.

SUN SHINES AS SHIP ANCHORS IN HARBOR

(Associated Press Telegram)
Brest, Dec. 12.—The steamer George Washington, with President Wilson on board, entered the harbor at Brest shortly after noon today.

The president's ship moved into the harbor through lines formed by the battleships. She dropped anchor about a mile off shore amid a tumultuous demonstration.

The battleship squadron escorting the George Washington entered the harbor at noon with the president's ship far back in the haze.

The day's first ray of sunlight fell across the George Washington as she anchored, while the huge reproduction of the Statue of Liberty on shore was brilliantly illuminated as the sun broke through the clouds.

The French ministers and American officials boarded the George Washington at 130. They were accompanied by Miss Margaret Wilson. As soon as they had gone aboard the George Washington preparations began for the president's landing. About 100 American and French warships were in the roadstead.

WILSON GETS CHANCE TO SEE HAVOC WROUGHT

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Thursday, Dec. 12.—Commenting on the approaching arrival of President Wilson in France, the Pall Mall Gazette says:

"Mr. Wilson will at last have an opportunity to see for himself the havoc wrought by the German submarines and Belgium, and from personal conferences be able to understand the point of view of those who suffered from these infamous depredations."

"President Wilson has a judicial mind. No living statesman is better able to weigh evidence or more ready to face facts with courage and determination. Too much has been made of the letter of the law, of the technical points and too little of their spirit. His reference to freedom of the seas, for instance, has caused much discussion. As Mr. Lloyd George pointed out yesterday, the sword, the dagger, the knife, the bullet of defense and we do not mean to give it up."

"The war has demonstrated that not only our own safety but the safety of civilization itself depended on our naval supremacy. When a league of nations is established and has become not an idea to be aimed at but a realized confederation of mankind, then, perhaps, we can modify our claim to sea power."

SAILORS SING PRAYER AS WILSON LEAVES SHIP

(Associated Press Telegram)
On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Thursday, Dec. 12.—The President left tonight, the ship steaming steadily towards Brest and was picked up by wireless the American battleship coming out from France and England to meet it. It was expected that the fleet would be met before dawn Friday.

The President and Mrs. Wilson had their farewell dinner tonight with Captain McCauley. Aboard ship all preparations had been completed for the departure of the president. The President today completed his conference with members of the American mission and now everything is ready for the informal but important preliminary conferences with the entente premiers, beginning probably next Tuesday. The President spent the day in putting the finishing touches on his plans for the first conference and in preparing a reply to the address of welcome to be delivered by President Poincaré at a luncheon in Paris on Saturday.

In the final conference aboard ship today, the President made clear his position on the question of the entente. His idea should be well defined before the meeting with the entente premiers.

A remarkable farewell demonstration for the President was held aboard ship last evening. At the conclusion of the showing of motion pictures, a chorus of bluejackets entered the main salon and sang: "God be with you Till we meet again."

The President apparently was deeply affected as the sailors sang the verses of the song, their melodious voices ringing through the ship. As the solemn notes of the famous old hymn were concluded, the orchestra struck up "Sub, Lat, Sine," in which all the ship's company joined.

SAY CHECK FORGER IS PHILADELPHIA ACTOR

Police officials today discovered the identity of "Paul Jones," not the naval hero, but the young man who attempted to pass the forged check on Cashier Norton Suter. He hailed from Philadelphia and claimed to be a vaudeville artist and comedian and has been holding forth at one of the local hotels for the past few days. He was known to one of the members of the company playing at the Lyric. The police stated that "Paul Jones" was lately released from the state reformatory at Washington, Pa. He applied for work to Manager Harry Eldon at the Lyric and was promised an engagement of some of the days which was to have begun this evening.

ARMISTICE CURES MANY CASES OF SHELL SHOCK

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 11.—More than 2000 American soldiers in France suffering from shell shock were cured by news of the signing of the armistice. Surgeon General Ireland today told the senate military committee. Of 2500 shell shock cases the general said, all except about 300 were well almost immediately.

"Virtue is its own reward," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes," agreed the Simple Mug, "it does get an encore."

RESUMING SCHOOL BUILDING

One of the results of the war was school buildings. Most growing cities and towns have been behind in this matter for some years. Tax payers have groaned at the most of modern school houses. Yet school population has kept on increasing.

Various plans have been tried for reducing cost. One theory is the ground floor school, with all rooms on the level. It is argued that the walls being so much lower, they do not have to be so thick, so less brick is required. This would seem to work where land is cheap, and where not much heat is required. In a cold climate, it is claimed the heat bills are higher for this type of school. Also a much larger roofing surface has to be kept up.

Some towns have put up portable school houses. In the end the permanent building has to be erected, and the portable one paid for too.

Many wooden school houses are still put up, and may look very attractive. They still serve the majority of small country towns. But lumber grows more expensive. Brick and concrete are more permanent, they save paint and involve less fire risk.

In some states there have been faddy laws on ventilation, requiring a given number of units of fresh heated air to be delivered every minute. These ventilation systems do not always work. An enormous amount of fuel may be called for, besides costly plumbing. Also the baked air that is sometimes delivered from these systems is a very poor substitute for fresh air drawn from a window.

To keep up school system, buildings must be put up as needed, even if costly. We can't get efficient young people if we deny them facilities of education.

OLD CLOTHES.

The people who have cast off clothing to dispose of will find a great demand for it this year. There is not as much poverty as usual in this country, so that the home needs will not probably be as great as usual. But we must remember how many millions of people in Europe are suffering for lack of clothing.

Many have lost their homes. In a great many others the wage earner has been killed.

It does not seem desirable in these times, unless people are very hard up, to sell their old clothes to second hand dealers, to be resold to the poor at a good profit. The amount that can thus be realized is always small. The satisfaction of giving them direct to some good relief agency is worth more than the trifle they will bring. While substantial garments have been getting moth eaten in our closets, millions of people need just these things.

Correspondents want to know what remedial measure principally occupied the President's mind during his passage to Europe? Well considering the disturbed condition of the ocean in December, it is doubtful whether he thought most favorable of Jamaica ginger or a sedlitz.

CHRISTMAS GIVING.

There used to be a good many people who felt it necessary at Christmas time to remember anywhere from 50 to 100 of their friends, sometimes more than that. Many of these souvenirs of course were trifles that cost little. Still the whole program was very excessive and such persons came through to Christmas thoroughly tired out.

The amount of useless truck that used to be distributed at Christmas was incalculable. But the people who made these gifts did it out of kindness of heart. For the past year they have been too busy caring for real needs to spend time on follies.

Let us hope that as a result the Christmas gift custom will be permanently changed. Let us take the money formerly spent on frivolities for friends, and give it in substantial to the poor. Let the children have useful tools and instructive games and implements of outdoor sport, rather than mechanical toys that break down in a week.

TAXES AND WAR COSTS.

Philadelphia Record.) The percentage of war costs which we are meeting by taxation is shown by the treasury report to be very much higher than the published abstract of the report indicated. In a sense the billions of dollars invested in the securities of our allies are war costs, but in a much more important sense they are not. There is a vast and fundamental difference between spending a billion dollars for explosives which are destroyed on the battlefield and spending a billion dollars in buying the securities of Great Britain and France and Italy.

Secretary McAdoo says in his report: "During the fiscal year 1918 the bureau of internal revenue has been able to collect the largest tax ever paid by any country in the amount which represents a larger proportion of the nation's war budget than any other belligerent engaged in the present war has been able to defray from tax revenues." It is safe to say that it is a much greater proportion of war costs than was ever raised by taxation in any country in the case of a really great war. Of course if the war is a very little one the whole or nearly the whole of the cost can be easily obtained by taxation.

In the fiscal year 1917, during only three months of which we were at war, and excluding transactions in the public debt 55 per cent. of the war costs were defrayed from taxes. But this aggregate includes $85,000,000 which was paid for the purchase of securities of public debt transactions we paid 31 1/2 per cent. of the war costs by taxation. But here again the war costs include the purchase of foreign securities, or on loans to the allies. If we deduct these investments from the war costs, we've paid 49 1/2 per cent. of the costs by taxation. What this amounts to is that one year's cost of the most enormously expensive of all wars, conducted with absolute disregard of expense where efficiency or rapidity could be gained thereby, is met by the taxes of two years.

With the war past, we may now consider what is the wisest method of foot ing the bills that were not settled at the time by the collection of taxes. The replacement of the current issues by bonds with a longer term has already been suggested. The matter is of the more importance because the expenses of the government will not get back to the pre war level unless the league of nations project shall materialize in a form that will render it needless to maintain a considerable army and navy. The present talk is for an army of half a million men and a navy materially larger than the permanent part of the present establishment. If it is going to cost three or four billions a year to support the national peace establishment, there will be additional reason for refunding the debt in long term bonds which will not involve an appreciable burden upon a great and growing nation. A man can move a ton easily enough if he is allowed to lift it 50 pounds at a time.

NOT VERY HUNGRY.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.) The Germans are not starving. The long forbidden country has been opened by the armies of occupation, and nowhere is there any indication that the people are suffering from lack of food. At Treves, for instance, there seems to be as much food as there would be in any non-German European city of Treves' population. The cry for food that went up from Germany immediately after the signing of the armistice seems to have been a kind of propaganda devised to create sympathy.

Starvation of Germany did not win the war for the allies. When Germany was supposed to be weakest it now appears that she was reasonably strong. Her fatal weakness was her military organization, which was thought to be her mightiest strength. The wonderful military machine collapsed not because of lack of food at home, but because of the conviction that the struggle had become hopeless. The iron discipline which had made the German army strong enough to threaten the conquest of the whole world could not prevail against the odds at Foch's command, nor would the soldiers consent to protect a war that had become wholly defensive and that would soon bring the invasion and conquest of the fatherland.

Grain from Hungary, from Wallachia, from Ukraine, from Syria has kept the German people well supplied. Strict regulation and economy have been necessary, but no more necessary than in France and Italy. There has even been sufficient grain to provide for the national beer demand. Prices have been high, but they have not placed the necessities beyond the reach of the German masses. Unquestionably the Germans would be glad of more food than they have, but it is abundantly clear that "feeding the Germans" is not one of the prime duties of the allied powers today.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

(Ohio State Journal.) Judge Hughes, late Republican candidate for the presidency, spoke at Columbia University last Saturday night and vigorously declared that "governmental enterprise tends constantly to inefficiency" and he called those who advocated it enemies of liberty. A great fear he suggested was putting the industrial activities of the nation under political control. It is the most serious question. He closed his address with this remarkable observation:

"It is undoubtedly true that whenever during the war extraordinary powers were fittingly exercised and governmental control was assumed for

Every man has in himself a continent of undiscovered character. Happy is he who uncovers the Columbus to his own soul.—Sir J. Stevens

Frugality.

A Wise Precaution.

Aunt Caline says—Bennie Pitt which has lived out west for a good many years, has come back here on a visit, and 'tother nite he was in here a tellin' I an' Zeke a lot o' things about the country out there. Finely Zeke says, "Do you hev cyclones where you're a-havin' at, Bennie?" says he "Well, I should say we do," ansest back Bennie, "the feller what I was next doest to me had his whole house blew away last summer," says he. "Aly goodness!" says Zeke. "Hain't you atead yourn will go in one o' them there storms?" he says. "Oh no," says Bennie, "I don't think there's much danger," he says. "You see, it's such a heavy mortgage onto it," he says.

Aunt Caline

There's No Such an Animal. We suppose there are not only Germans of mixed blood but also unadulterated ones, but we do not think we could ever bring ourselves to refer to the latter as pure Germans.

Did You Know

That a buckler, in old armor, was a kind of shield worn on the left arm? The bucklers worn by the spearman among the ancient Romans were about four feet long and two and a half feet wide, and were made of board covered on the inside with linen and sheep-skin, and on the outside with iron plate. In the Middle Ages the buckler was round, oval or square in shape, and was frequently made of wickerwork or of hide strengthened by metal plates.

war purposes, the readjustment to conditions of peace must be effected gradually and with the circumspection essential to the protection of all the public and private interests involved. But the immediate purpose should be to readjust as soon as may be, not to the conditions of the war, but to the conditions, a procedure essentially vicious and constituting the most serious offense against our institutions." There is no doubt President Wilson looks at it pretty much the same way. There is no conservative opinion upon the subject in his recent address to Congress, but there are many expressions in that address that lead one to suspect that he, too, is opposed to government ownership. We sincerely hope he is.

DON'T LET THEM IN.

(Chicago Tribune.) Recently Victor Berger and other leaders of pro-German pro-Bolshevik Socialism in this country held a meeting at the Coliseum, with an overflow meeting at the annex.

The leaders of this gathering had opposed the war to check German militarism, they had gone as far as they dared to weaken the national purpose and effort. They openly stand for the complete overthrow of the American system of government and give their approval to Lenin and the system he is trying to fasten upon Russia by the aid of Bismarck's formula of blood and iron.

The speakers addressed a congenial audience who numbered not enough literate Americans to make up a corporal's guard. The hall was filled with men and women who know nothing of our history or the lessons of centuries of experience upon which the institutions of our country are founded. They have brought to this country their experience of European wrongs and their scheme of reform made under European conditions, and they ask the American people to adopt them as a panacea for all social and political ills.

It is a piece of insolence mitigated only by its futility. But it is worthy of attention as a source of disturbance. American common sense is quite able to deal with this invasion of imported radicalism, which waves the red flag and insults when it dares the Stars and Stripes and the whole ordered system of American individual liberty. But it should not be permitted to grow by new drafts from the same source of alienism. America cannot go forward by turning backward to the inexperience of oppressed and backward Europe. There is no profit in throwing these clogs upon our sane progress.

Spirit of the Press

Wilhelm's American Friends.

When William Hohenzollern was asked the other day if he had a message to deliver the fugitive replied that he regretted that he could not send a message to America, where he believed he still had some friends. Doubtless that is perfectly true, and some of them could easily be named. Among them are Rintelen and other criminals languishing in prisons and the large number of interned persons who are awaiting, presumably, return to the Fatherland. There are, in addition, some persons who so far have escaped justice, while others are awaiting it. A committee of the senate is seeking light upon certain phases of newspaper ownership and control. It is hoped that all the facts concerning efforts to improperly influence public opinion through control of newspapers will be unearthed.—New York Herald.

What About the German Women?

One may wonder whether those German women who are appealing to President Wilson for food for their country ever expressed any sympathy for the people of Belgium and Northern France deprived of food by the invaders, and whether they ever took steps to organize relief for those unfortunate, and for the equally afflicted residents of Poland, Russia and Rumania. It is because of Germany's heartless indifference to the sufferings of many millions of persons stricken by famine that its own plea comes with such bad grace. Its brutality is reacting upon itself in a way it could never have imagined possible.—Philadelphia Record.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The makers of the New Edison assert that it RE-CREATES the artist's voice or instrument with such complete fidelity that no human ear can distinguish the artist from the RE-CREATION. Then they proceed to prove it by subjecting the instrument to the acid test of direct comparison with the living artist. More than 1500 of these tone tests have been conducted. Invariably the result proved the truth of this claim. Why has no other device been subjected to this test?

HEALTH TALK

SPANISH INFLUENZA OR GRIP.

BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.

An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid.

The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three: Clean mouth, clean skin, and clean bowels.

To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of may apple, leaves of sago, root of jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath.

To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and, as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system for increase the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water tepid in which a tablespoonful of salutaris has been dissolved in a quart.

After an attack of grip, or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Ironic" Tablets, or that way with our grandfathers' Mr. and Mrs. Adam Maharg is quite ill with the flu.

Several from this vicinity attended the party on Tuesday. Mrs. Alice Starnett Thursday afternoon. Mr. Adam Maharg and Tilton Maharg were Newark callers last Friday. Miss Emma Maharg took dinner Sunday with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Adam Maharg.

Middle Aged Women

Are Here Told the Best Remedy for Their Troubles.

Freemont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Gouzen, 225 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

North Haven, Conn.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed when passing through change of life. There is nothing like it to overcome the trying symptoms."—Mrs. Florence Isella, Box 197, North Haven, Conn.

BOYS RELIEVED WHEN ARMISTICE IS SIGNED

A feeling of relief exists among the boys abroad now that the job of whipping the Hun is finished. So writes Private George Walpole to his mother, Mrs. Annie Walpole, 69 Madison avenue. The letter, written November 17, follows:
"I've been feeling fine ever since I've been over here, and feeling a whole lot better thinking that the old job is finished. I think there will be a chance of getting home by spring. It is getting chilly over here now, but I suppose it is just as cold in the states. I haven't received any mail for quite a while, but have been moving around quite a bit. It takes some time to transfer it, but it will come in good when I do get it. Letters always come in a bunch."
His address is Private George L. Walpole, Co. D, 12th M. G. B., A. P. O. 746, American E. F. France.

AMERICAN OFFICERS REACH BERLIN TUES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Wednesday, Dec. 1—Brigadier General Harries and Lieutenants Gailard and Schelling of the American commission for the repatriation of war prisoners arrived in Berlin last night. They were the first American officers to arrive in Berlin since the signing of the armistice. They had a 25 hour ride from Spa, Belgium, the former German headquarters.

KIRKERSVILLE

Chas. Ruckman of Thurston, was here Sunday visiting his mother. He had a bad case of the flu, the malady having affected his heart.
Mr. Sweetzer of S. A. T. C. of Otterbein college, was here Sunday. Albert Hosington came home Sunday, having been discharged from the army. Curtis Ruckley was home over the end of the week.
Mrs. Charles and John Kummer were visiting relatives at Summit Station, Tuesday.
Nellie Davy is ill with influenza.
Miss Iva Spurgeon returned from Jacktown on Tuesday, where she has been for the past three weeks with her aunt who is ill.
Mrs. James Harris suffered a severe attack of asthma last Saturday evening.
Russell Taggart has written home from a camp in New Jersey that he has received his discharge from the service. Mr. Taggart was operating a garage here last fall when he was called. His wife is at present visiting her people in Indiana.
The flu conditions here remain encouraging. The attacks are light with no signs of complications at present. Less than one new case develops each day.

HOG SHIPMENTS ARE UNDER BAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Dec. 13—State Veterinarian T. A. Burnett yesterday issued a warning to farmers not to ship hogs to local markets while the embargo is on at the largest stock yards as it would be necessary for them to return the hogs to the farm again, thereby laying the foundation for spread of cholera. All yards are infected with cholera virus he said.

73 AMERICANS ARE RELEASED BY HUNS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 13—The names of 51 officers and 22 enlisted men, released from a German prison camp at Vil. Ingen, who passed through Switzerland November 29, were reported to France. The money is credited to the common account of the allies in conformity with the terms of the armistice.

GERMANS GET 60 MILLIONS IN GOLD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Dec. 13—Gold received from Russia by the Germans amounting to more than $60,000,000 has arrived in Paris and has been deposited in the Bank of France, according to an official statement from the French ministry of finance. The money is credited to the common account of the allies in conformity with the terms of the armistice.

A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

The Freedom of the Seas

WHAT IT MEANS IN AMERICA, ENGLAND, AND FRANCE

There is a very interesting article in this week's LITERARY DIGEST—December 14th—bearing upon the most vital topic likely to be discussed at the great peace conference—the Freedom of the Seas.

While Lieutenant-Colonel Repington, the famous British Military Expert, remarks that "I have not the slightest idea what freedom of the seas means, nor have I met anyone who can tell me," London and French newspapers have quite definite ideas as to its meaning.

Much of the comment in the London and Paris papers emphasizes the fact that President Wilson has not yet defined what he means by freedom of the seas, but most of the French journals agree with the Paris Matin when it says "if this doctrine means any diminution of the power of the British navy, France will reject it."

Just Ready—New Armistice Edition of The Digest Liberty Map

Every patriotic American will want to know just where the war was won and to follow the movements of the victorious armies of occupation. The wonderful NEW Armistice Edition of The Literary Digest Liberty Map of the Western Area of the war, now ready, shows you the German territory surrendered, the bridgeheads extending East of the Rhine, and the Neutral Zone. It gives the line reached by the Allied Armies at the moment when hostilities ceased, shows German Great Headquarters, the spot where Marshal Foch imposed the armistice terms, the boundaries of the recovered provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, and 12,000 towns and villages, with separate finding index; railways, highways, canals, etc. One special insert map shows the whole field of operations, including Russia, Mesopotamia, and the Balkans, and another the coal and iron areas in the belligerent countries. Strikingly printed in four colors on strong bond paper, size 4 ft. 4 in. by 3 ft. 6 in., $2.75; on special Map Cloth, same size, $4.50; latter style with Wall Hanger and Roller, complete, $5.50. WILL'S FARM TO STATE OF OHIO

Yellow Springs Philosopher
and Capitalist Would Further His Views on Social Questions.

Cincinnati, Dec. 13.—The value of advertising is given unusual recognition in the will of John Bryan, poet, philosopher and capitalist of Yellow Springs. In his will which is to be filed in probate court here today a fund estimated at about half a million dollars is to be devoted to advertising as a means of furthering his social ideas. According to unofficial reports the will also makes the state of Ohio a beneficiary of about $300,000. The total estate is estimated will exceed $1,000,000. Attorney E. L. Frankenstein, who preached the funeral oration at Bryan's funeral services in a local undertaking establishment, has the will for filing. Mr. Frankenstein declined to comment upon the terms in any way in advance of filing in court. The widow, who is named beneficiary to the extent of about $100,000 is here. According to reports the will provides that his magnificent stock farm and showing place at Yellow Springs, O., is to be bequeathed to the state of Ohio to be used in the ways the will provides. In the event the state refuses to accept the trust the farm is to go to the village of Yellow Springs under similar restrictions. Should the village refuse the trust also the farm then is to be sold and the proceeds added to the residue of the estate which a trust company named executor and trustee is to hold and use the entire income for advertising in furtherance of his ideas.

A former housekeeper living in Cincinnati is given $50,000. Other relatives are given considerable amounts. The will was drawn more than a year ago. The widow has the right to elect to take under the will, or to take what the law allows her, which it is estimated would be nearly $250,000.

MILLION CASES OF FLU IN OHIO; 17,000 DIE

Columbus, Dec. 13.—Approximately one million Ohioans have suffered with the influenza since the disease first became epidemic in this state and approximately 17,000 have died from the disease in Ohio, according to information obtained at the state health department.

Health officials announced that they believe the crest of the epidemic has been passed, although the influenza is recurring in epidemic form in many sections of the state. However, the second epidemic of the disease seems to be much less severe and the number of deaths much less.

The following cities are now suffering a recurrence of the epidemic the health officials announced: Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Akron, Ashtabula, Bucyrus, East Liverpool, Salem, Lakewood, Medina, Franklin, Warren county, Marion and Niles.

The situation is said to be bad at Marion, which called for United States public health physician this week to combat the epidemic. The state authorities also sent six other public health physicians to various parts of the state, mostly to southeastern Ohio mining centers. A nurse was sent to Salem.

PURITY

Jesse Hawke has been honorably discharged from Camp Sherman and together with his wife who are employed at the Community House at Camp Sherman, has returned to his home here. During his period of service in the army, his house here was entered and various articles of clothing, etc., were stolen. Upon his return, he instituted a search for them and located them at the home of a neighbor who accuses his wife of the theft. The latter is ill and the man has been placed under bond for his appearance at court. here, Tuesday to attend the funeral of the Perry of Prospect, Ohio, were the former's brother-in-law, William Jones, who died at his home here, Sunday, with influenza. Mrs. Susie Keller, a daughter of the deceased, has been quite ill with the same disease, but is convalescent.

Nearly every family in this neighborhood is afflicted with influenza, but none of the cases are reported as serious now.

WHERE'S FATHER?
"Go to father," she said.
When I asked her to read.
She knew that I knew that her father was dead.
She knew that I knew what a life he had led.
And she knew that I knew what she meant when she said,
"Go to father."

SOUTH AMERICA INTERESTS KEAR

Strong Customs Among Peruvians and Chileans Discussed in Letter to His Parents.

Raymond Kear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kear of the Granville road, now serving in the merchant marines, wrote the following letter to his parents while on the Pacific coast, off the coast of Chile. He described the trip through the Panama canal and parts of South America that he has visited, dwelling mostly on the magnificence of the city of Lima—the capital of Peru—and the Spanish customs. The letter was written October 28, and posted in Arequipa, Chile, and has just been received here. The day after the letter was received another letter followed from New York, saying that he had just arrived, and the letter making about the same time. It follows:

"Although it is supposed to be the spring of the year here it is quite cool, especially at night, for the cold air comes down from the Andes mountains, which follow the coast-line very closely and are quite high. As there is practically no rainfall, except a very light dew or sort of a mist, the mountains are devoid of any sort of vegetation, except those very high mountains where the snow melts from the top and runs part way down the side. We passed one yesterday about 10,000 feet high, and it was nothing but sand, or so it seemed to us at sea.

"The Panama canal was a wonderful sight going through, as it is a masterpiece of American ingenuity and ability. The canal itself is 49 miles long and except for Gatun lake, which lies at the highest elevation of the canal, is practically all artificial.

"There are three separate locks—the first one from the Atlantic side is called Gatun locks. It is the largest, having three separate chambers, or rises, each about 30 feet. The average width of the canal is about 120 feet and the depth 45 feet. The water is forced in from the bottom and gradually rises to the height of the next chamber, then it is rushed back through the same holes and used again. There are four small engines called 'donkeys,' which steady the boat as it goes through the locks by attaching heavy steel ropes to each side. In the second lock there are only two chambers and it is called Pedro Miguel, and the third one is just a single chamber and is called Miraflores. All the locks are double so as to allow ships to go through from either side at the same time. The locks are made from concrete and are elaborate and artistic in construction.

"The surrounding country is very heavy with green tropical vegetation and is very pretty. As we only stopped a couple of hours for coal at Colon we did not get shore leave, though I hope on our way back to go ashore. We arrived in Callao 19 days after leaving Baltimore. We were treated royally in Callao. Callao is the principal port of Peru and is just about five miles from Lima—the capital. Lima is over 100,000 in population and is a progressive and up-to-date place. It has quite a few imposing-looking buildings—mostly government ones. The homes of the wealthy are marble and stone and are beautifully furnished inside. The parks they call plazas and are very numerous. One especially called the Exposition Plaza, is about the size of Idlewild, but is much more magnificent, as the trees and flowers are laid out with an artist's view to beauty. There is also a large zoo in that park. Then there is a beautiful marble hall, which is a national art and history gallery filled with beautiful and historical objects of long ago.

"Peru was among the first settlements in South America, and its founder was a Spaniard named Pizarro. His bones lie in one of the principal churches here.

"The churches most of which are hundreds of years old are very large and very ornamental, and are filled with oil paintings and altars of silver and gold. The cathedral is next to St. Francis, in New York, and is the largest and prettiest I have seen. The woodwork and seats around the sanctuary, inside the altar rail, are all hand-carved out of solid blocks of mahogany. Most of the people are very religious here.

"The customs of meeting people here are very different. You are never introduced to a girl until you have met her mother, or chaperone, and at a dance one always has to dance with the mother first. If you wish to correspond with a girl, the parents' consent must be obtained and they are never alone with their admirers until they are engaged. They are sure strong on etiquette and formality here. They are very pro-American and that explains the royal reception which was accorded us. Even the poor natives cry out: '¡Americano!' while some of the most effusive men, especially in the fashionable cafes, embrace you and call you brother.

RECIPE FOR A MILD LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

Made With Simple Sugar Syrup and Mentho-Laxene in About Five Minutes.

Make a syrup with a pint of sugar and a half pint of boiling water, cool and pour into a bottle or jar. Then add the contents of a 2½ oz. bottle of Mentho-Laxene, shake well, and take a teaspoonful four to eight times a day for head or chest colds, coughs, bronchitis, whooping cough or catarrh of head and throat.

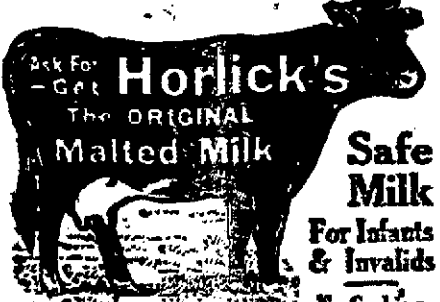

Actually, the very first dose will show you the wonderful virtues in Mentho-Laxene. It is penetrating, healing, soothing and curative to a greater extent than anything ever discovered. Children like it and adults use it from Maine to California. Physicians prescribe it, hospitals use it, and why should not you enjoy the benefits of a cheap, home-made remedy free from narcotics, sickening drugs. Ask your druggist for Mentho-Laxene and insist on getting it, for it is guaranteed to please every purchaser or money back by The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio. (Adv.)

GERMAN PLOTS BARED IN PROBE

Senate Committee Gets
Many Documents From Department of Justice on Foe Activities.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 12.—Voluminous documents shedding light on the German system for blowing up munition factories and practicing sabotage and espionage in various forms have been assembled by the department of justice in preparation for disclosure. It was said, but officials have not determined what portion of these it would be wise to give out or when it might be done without interfering with activities of government agents still in progress.

The disclosures of A. Bruce Biehski, chief of the bureau of investigation, before the senate committee investigating propaganda constitute only a small part of the evidence of German practices gathered by the department's agents in the last two years.

Mr. Biehski has taken care to confine himself to propaganda. It was pointed out and this virtually was a separate branch of German work in this country both before and after the United States entered the war.

When Mr. Biehski appears before the senate committee again tomorrow for examination it is possible that some senators may question him about phases of the bureau's work other than the fight against enemy propaganda.

ESTHONIANS RESIST BOLSHEVIKI ATTACKS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Stockholm, Dec. 12.—The delegation from the Russian Baltic provinces which has its headquarters here received a telegram Wednesday reporting that the Estonian front was still holding against the attack launched upon it by the Russian Bolsheviki, although the situation was grave because of a shortage of arms and ammunition. Russian ships have been bombed the coast from Narva to Asserby but attempts by the Bolsheviki to land on the Estonian shore were frustrated. In the south the Bolsheviki have captured Neuhausen, west of Pskov.

The delegation represents the situation as such as to make urgent the necessity of sending help to the attacked front.

OFFICERS SENT TO TO POLAND BY FOCH

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 12.—Marshal Foch has sent officers of the allied armies to Poland to investigate the pogroms reported to have taken place there recently. Departure of the mission was announced an official dispatch said, by Minister of Foreign Affairs Pichon, who stated that from his information the disorders had been committed by released German and Austrian prisoners of war returning from Russia. These soldiers, Mr. Pichon explained, not under officers wandered at will through the country seeking villages and attacking the population regardless of race or creed.

AN INTERNAL TREATMENT

FOR PILES (HEMORRHOIDS)

Gives absolute relief from all pain and suffering. Has never failed. Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case. Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that takes internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where, by its soothing, healing and astringent action, it first allays and then in direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It is positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Pleasant relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments. Really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. IMPORTANT: What is known as hemorrhoids are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. T. J. Evans, Philadelphia—Advt.

EVERY-DAY THRIFT

What you are going to have five or ten years from now depends on what you save in the meantime. Whatever you save by thrift becomes not only possession but a source of new income as soon as you deposit the money in a Savings Account with The Park National Bank. Everyday thrift is not being stingy or miserly, nor does it mean that you must be without the comforts and real pleasures of life. Everyday thrift is merely good management. Get a Savings Account to help you practice thrift every day.

EDUCATOR BACK FROM HOLY LAND URGES WORLD ACT AS TRUSTEE FOR PALESTINE

Dr. J. H. Finley and map showing Palestine.

Preservation of Palestine by international agreement as a monument to occidental civilization is urged by Dr. John H. Finley, New York state commissioner of education. He has just returned from the Holy Land, where he went as head of the American Red Cross mission to that country. The educator points out that Palestine is too precious to revert to any single nation or creed.

TALK EXTENSION OF ARMISTICE AT TREVES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Dec. 12.—Negotiations for the prolongation of the German armistice began today at Treves, Rhenish Prussia. The Martin says that the German armistice delegates have requested that the allies reinforce their troops at certain points in order to aid the German authorities in maintaining quiet. The newspapers add that in cases where the German military chiefs may urge more extended occupation in central Germany the allies will limit the sending of troops into German territory, only to the necessities of occasions that may arise.

HUNS SOUGHT TO CONTROL PRISONERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Wednesday, Dec. 11.—When it was evident that the end of the war was near, Germany made a systematic canvass of French prisoners of war in an effort to find men who would plead the case of "new Germany" in France, according to statements made by soldiers who have returned from enemy prison camps. This work began late in October but the efforts of the Germans were redoubled early in November, it is said. The French prisoners were told that the German Socialists wished nothing more than to live on friendly terms with their French comrades. German agents said they wanted to get in touch with French deputies to announce the complete triumph of socialist ideas in Germany and to convince them of the necessity of clearing up difficulties between the two countries the prisoners say.

RESTRICTIONS ON LABOR REMOVED

Columbus, Dec. 13.—Government restriction on the recruiting of labor in Ohio, imposed last August, as a means of stabilizing the labor situation during the war has been cancelled in so far as they apply to Ohio employers, the U. S. employment service announced yesterday. They still apply, however, to employers outside the state. Under the regulations, employers were not permitted to advertise for unskilled labor and certain restrictions covering the advertising for skilled workers were imposed. The recruiting and distribution of unskilled labor was taken over exclusively by the employment service.

RIOTS IN BOHEMIA QUELLED BY TROOPS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Amsterdam, Dec. 13.—Extensive riots occurred yesterday in Aussig, Bohemia, according to dispatches from Prague and machine guns and rifles were used against the mobs. Three persons were killed and five seriously injured and a great number wounded slightly. Troops also resorted to their arms in the neighboring villages of Schoenwiesen. Despite their efforts the excesses continued far into the night.

DAYTON PLACED ON AIRPLANE ROUTE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Dayton, Dec. 13.—According to information received from Congressman Warren G. The operation of this plan will be started in the late spring or summer of 1919, according to Congressman Harding.

NEED 5 BILLIONS MORE FROM BONDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Dec. 13.—Five to five and a half billion dollars more of bonds will have to be issued to finance the government this year, Secretary McAdoo told the house ways and means committee yesterday in discussing financial questions. He based this on an estimate of eighteen billion dollars in expenditures and members of the committee said the estimate was not too low.

WILL NOT LOWER RAIL MEN'S PAY

Washington, Dec. 13.—The railroad administration has no intention of reducing wages of railroad men generally after peace is declared, it was stated authoritatively yesterday and if the period of government control is extended for five years, as suggested by Director General McAdoo, it is probable that wages will stay at their present level.

COAL PLENTIFUL OFFICIALS SAY

Declare That Mines Operate Part Time and Cut Price Fails to Find Buyers.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 12.—One year ago Ohio was in the throes of a blizzard and thousands of families were clamoring for coal at any price to keep warm, public utilities were running on short coal rations, and many business industries were closed because no coal could be had.

Today, with abnormally warm weather, there is so much coal on the market that some Ohio mines are running only part time and coal can scarcely be disposed of, state officials say. Instances are reported of coal dealers offering their product at as much as a dollar under the government maximum price with no buyers.

Attorney General Joseph McGhee stated that the bottom has dropped completely out of the coal market and many small mine owners, who went into business after the United States entered the war, are facing absolute ruin.

In the Jackson district, where the attorney general formerly was interested in mines and where many of his friends and relatives still have holdings, he said he has been informed that some of the mines have operated only two days within the last ten because no market can be found for their product.

Mines in the Hocking district have been operating only on half time for several weeks, McGhee said, and he stated that he had been informed by operators in that district that they are contemplating closing down altogether until the market gets better.

A large furnace owner in the Jackson district, McGhee said, informed him that he had refused to buy coal offered him at $1 under the government maximum price. James B. Dugan, chief railroad inspector of the public utilities commission, said coal salesmen had informed him they had been unable to sell under the government maximum also. One salesman, he said, was anxious to take an order from an interurban railroad and accept receivers' certificates in payment. At this time a year ago, he said, it took cash in hand to get coal at all.

Several reasons for the slackness in the coal market are given by McGhee and Dugan. Principal ones were because a large percentage of domestic users had laid in their winter's supply early; ending of the war with large industrial plants well stocked and now unwilling to buy at the high prices; the surplus having been supplied during the summer, abnormally warm weather and better railroad transportation.

Since early summer, Dugan stated, there always has been a moderate coal supply and mines were enabled to run continuously with ready market in anticipation of the war continuing and another severe winter. Dugan said there is abundance of coal now in all the railroad yards.

BOLSHEVIKI OFFICIALS ORDER GENERALS SHOT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Stockholm, Dec. 12.—Generals Russki and Dimitrieff, of the Russian army have been shot by order of the local soviet at Prapragonka, according to an official Ukrainian statement received here from Petrograd. M. Rukhloff, former minister of commerce and communication in the Russian cabinet was shot at the same time.

General Russki at the outbreak of the war commanded the Russian troops in Northern Poland. Some blame was attached to him for the success of Field Marshal von Hindenburg in the successful German campaign in eastern Russia. General Radko Dimitrieff is a Bulgarian and played a prominent part in the Bulgarian campaign against the Turks in 1912. He joined the Russian army as a volunteer in August, 1914, and commanded the Russian forces which captured Pzomysl. Later he was commander of the Russian troops on the Riga front.

500 O. S. U. STUDENTS IN NATION'S SERVICE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 12.—Approximately 5,000 students and former students of Ohio State University joined the army and navy during the war, according to incomplete figures compiled by the state department of journalism at the university. So far, 50 of this number have been reported killed or to have died in service.

At the graduation exercises last June, the university unfurled a service flag with 2,640 stars. In a recent address, President W. O. Thompson announced that nearly twice that number of Ohio State men had joined the colors.

SWISS ASK WILSON TO VISIT COUNTRY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Bern, Switzerland, Dec. 12.—The Swiss government has addressed an invitation to President Wilson to visit Switzerland. The invitation says the Swiss authorities would consider a visit from the president of the United States as a fresh proof of the friendship between America, the greatest and Switzerland, the oldest Republic in the world.

How the perfect pancake formula was worked out

Years ago the Aunt Jemima people realized that when a woman mixes pancakes herself she could never be sure how they would turn out. Some days they might be good—but other days, when she thought she had done everything just the same—the cakes would turn out flat, tough and soggy.

To give every woman a way of making cakes that always come out wonderfully—always light and fluffy and tender—Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour was created.

The treasured recipe of a famous Southern cook was adopted as the basis of the formula. Long study was put in perfecting it. Especially ground and blended flours were used—flours that you could not buy in a store. And finally, since good pancakes need sweet milk, that was added, too (in powdered form).

No wonder Aunt Jemima Pancakes have such an unusually delicious flavor—no wonder 120 million Aunt Jemima breakfasts were served last year!

So quick and easy—and so nourishing

Aunt Jemima Pancakes have just the nutritious, wholesome elements that your family needs—their gluten percentage is unusually high. They have the food value that gives youngsters strong bodies and plump, rosy cheeks.

Have Aunt Jemima Pancakes tomorrow—and some other day have the Buckwheat Cakes (Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Flour comes in the yellow package). Try waffles and muffins made with the Pancake Flour, too, they're delicious. Read on any Aunt Jemima box top how to get the famous Rag Dolls. Aunt Jemima Mills Company, St. Joseph, Missouri.

Richer because of the milk that's in it!

Sweet milk, powdered and mixed in the flour gives Aunt Jemima Pancakes the flavor that has made them America's favorite breakfast. You need add nothing but water to have rich, full-flavored cakes.

HOMER FIRE LOSS MAY BE $15,000

Newark Firemen Arrive Too Late To Be of Service to Volunteers Fighting Blaze.

An assistant fire marshal is in Homer today investigating the fire which started yesterday morning at 11 o'clock and burned down the two-story K. of P. building, the barber shop of Jesse Sellers, a small frame residence of Joseph McIntire and a two-story frame building belonging to the Ullrich-Homestead Telephone Company, in which their exchange was operated. The upstairs apartment of the telephone building was occupied by Boyd Brown and family.

The fire was discovered in the barber shop. The store room under the lodge room was unoccupied and there was no one in the barber shop at the time and neither was there a fire in the stove. By the time a bucket brigade was formed to fight the flames the fire had made such headway that it was soon seen that the larger building was doomed. Help from the Newark fire department arrived too late to be of service as the buildings were in ruins before they reached the village.

All of the paraphernalia in the K. of P. hall was destroyed with the building, but the barber shop furnishings were saved as was also the household goods of McIntire and Brown. The telephone company exchange buried under and the company with the Pythians suffered the greatest loss. The entire loss is estimated at $12,000 to $15,000, partly insured. The K. of P. carried $3,000 on the building and $500 on contents. The others are also partly insured. It is not known how the fire originated.

The squad wagon from headquarters with Capt. Ned Roe and Driver Earl Vandegriff left this city at 12:15 o'clock and made the run of 17 miles through mud up to the hubs at times, in 34 minutes.

Our Boys and Girls

Never allow your daughter to wear high heels shoes, for they cause an abnormal tilt of the body and are harmful in every way to the feet. The shoe proper for the schoolgirl has a low heel, broad soles, roomy box and low uppers.

If, from wearing bad shoes, the feet have lost their normal contour, the first thing to do is to remedy this state of affairs and to buy shoes that follow the natural outline of the foot. All the pressure upon the inflamed joints must be relieved and the feet should be allowed to return to their natural condition.

It is often possible to make bunions less prominent by wearing pads of absorbent cotton between the great and first toe, the muscles of the feet require proper exercise, and there is nothing better than dancing for this. The shoes worn when dancing should be as low heel as possible and fit the feet snug without being tight.

Whenever there are indications that the milk being given to a small baby does not agree with it, the liquid should be diluted. Give the baby a little plain boiled water once or twice a day. Be very sure to clean the bottles every time you use them. Never rinse with cold water and then set on the stove and brought to a hard boil. Allowing them to stay in the water until they are cold. Wash again and they are ready for use.

Bottles treated in this way will not break readily when filled with boiling water or when the food is being cooked in them. Every bottle should be emptied just the minute the baby has finished with the feeding. Then rinse with cold water and let it stand filled with the water until the bottles for the day have all been used. Then scrub all of the bottles with hot water and soap, using a small bottle brush on the inside.

Every Day Etiquette

"If you are married in a traveling suit, is it proper to have a bridesmaid?" inquired Maud.

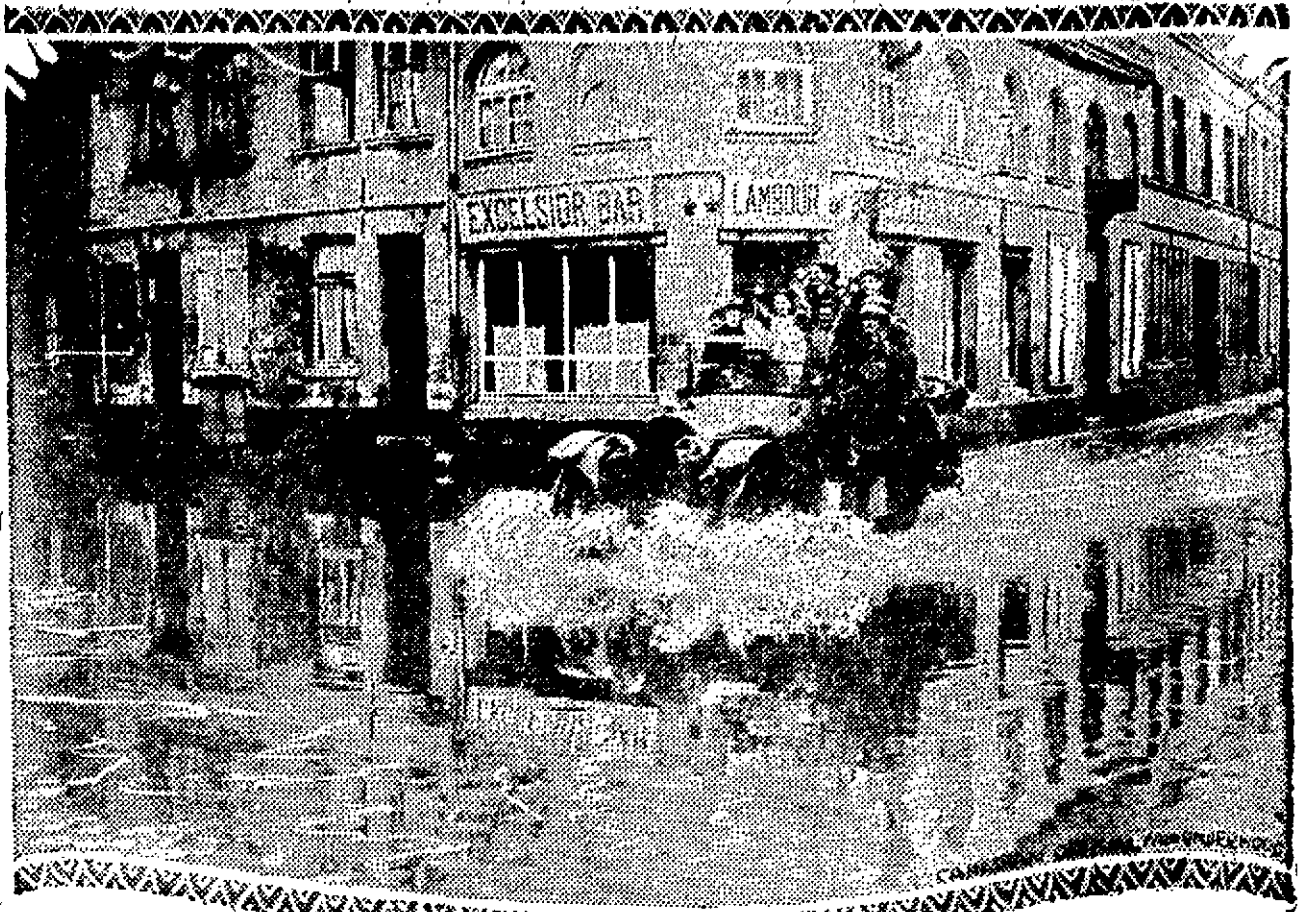

"Yes, it is perfectly proper to have an attendant when you are married in a coat suit. More than one bridesmaid, however, is rather inconsistent," said her mother.

"Who should proceed in going up stairs, the man or the woman," asked Joe.

"There is some difference of opinion on this point, but with most people it is felt that the man should follow the woman up stairs to aid her should she trip or fall," said his uncle.

Mrs. Maguire—"I am so worried about my husband. He doesn't seem well." Mrs. Higgins—"Why, he looks the picture of health. What does he complain of?" Mrs. Maguire—"That's just it. He hasn't complained about a single thing for nearly a week."

HOW REFUGEES RETURNED TO FLOODED HOMES IN VALENCIENNES

Refugees returning to Valenciennes through streets flooded in fighting fires started by Germans. Thousands of residents of the territory invaded by the Germans during the war face years of struggle to rebuild and refurbish their homes, ruined by the enemy troops. But their cares were temporarily forgotten when they were able to return to their homes. The picture shows a load of refugees being brought back to their homes in Valenciennes, when that city was liberated from the clutches of the Germans by the Canadian forces. The city was flooded with water used in fighting fires started by the foe, but even this didn't halt their joy.

BAZAAR TO CLOSE SATURDAY NIGHT

Patriotic League's Christmas Shop Entertains Big Crowd On Fraternal Night.

The bazaar of the Patriotic League continues to enjoy an excellent patronage in the rooms in the corner of the Y. M. C. A. building. There was a steady stream of visitors yesterday and many useful and pretty Christmas presents were disposed of.

Last night was fraternal night but the attendance of the members of the fraternal societies of the city did not meet with the expectation of the women of the league. The Elks had a fair sized delegation present and there was a great deal of interest taken in the contest for the most popular member of that organization, many votes being recorded. Several members of the lodge also won a ham, chicken and other things.

The gypsy fortune teller is also doing a splendid business.

Tonight is professional night and there will undoubtedly be a large number of the professional men of the city present. The rooms will be kept open all day tomorrow and tomorrow evening everything will be disposed of. It is an opportunity to secure pretty and useful Christmas gifts for friends and relatives at reasonable bargains and there is plenty of fun and amusement for everybody.

Lucinda Winter.
Lucinda Winter, daughter of Christopher and Katherine Winter, born January 28, 1834, died December 7, 1918, aged 84 years, 10 months and 9 days. She was united in marriage to James Taylor, March 4, 1851. To this union were born five sons and three daughters, the husband, two sons and one daughter have preceded her to the spirit land.

She was united with the Licking Baptist church in 1858, and lived an earnest Christian life, always ready for any service for her Master. She leaves to mourn her departure three sons, George, George and Oscar and two daughters, Mrs. Frank Moore and Mrs. Grace Ackerman, also one brother Christopher Winter of Columbus, O., together with a large circle of relatives and friends.

Interment through the clouds that rend the Christian's natal skies, Distant beams like floods of glory, Fill the soul with glad surprise, And we almost hear the echo of a pure and holy throng, In the bright, the bright forever, In the summer land of song, On the banks beyond the river, We shall meet no more to sever, In the bright, the bright forever, In the summer land of song.

Milady's Boudoir

Perfumes.

The modern woman does not indulge extensively in perfumes. If she uses them at all it is done so delicately as to be a mere breath that is of such quality as not to grow stale and heavy after contact with the air. Oftentimes she obtains the desired effect by secreting her favorite scent in her lingerie drawer, in her hat box, among her furs or by spraying of the hair. Or late, the first thing in the morning, the dressing table has been embellished by all sorts of bottles of toilet water and perfumes. These bottles are the best of the sculptors art in the way of bas relief and engraving.

These are being closely pressed for popularity by quaint little crockery jars and pots, which are quite as fascinating in their own way as the bottles. It either case it is thus possible to keep the contents in their original package which serves to preserve the original strength and heaviness.

While human beings do not have the sense of smell developed to the point of animals, yet the human race has always been very susceptible to odors. While in the early modern centuries the use of perfumes declined to a mere means of disguising bodily uncleanness, among the earliest records of the ancients the powers of delicate scents were set down. Perfumes were thought of as a means of incense, was used very much like that used in some churches today.

Not only did the ancient Greeks and Egyptians use delicious body perfumes, but they chewed scented gums to sweeten the breath. The crusader brought back Arabian perfume to their wives and sweethearts among the best known of which was musk which the Chinese had used for centuries before.

Eye Care.

It is little wonder that women's eyes, exerting a small portion of their power, should grow tired as the day wears on. The eye is probably the most abused of all the human organs. Women can shut themselves away from noise, and indeed from sounds of all kinds. The tongue refrains from being used for hours and the sense of smell is comparatively seldom excited, but the eyes, during the waking hours, are always open and working at a high pressure.

An eight-hour day for the eyes would be quite enough, but they do their twelve, fourteen and even sixteen hours a day. This excessive degree of eye work, involving as it does a very large amount of muscular and nervous wear and tear, is exceedingly fatiguing. No wonder its victims suffer from headaches and all the other symptoms attributable to tired eyes.

The hollow eye, the sagging eyelids that encircle the drooping eyelids, all testify to the fact that the organ of vision has been worked beyond the limit of human endurance and the ill looks which produces are the signals for rebellion.

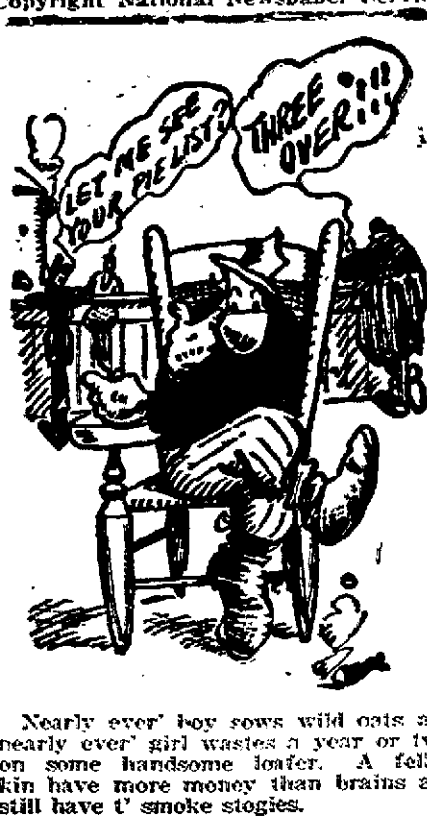

And yet, to shut one's eyes is the simplest thing in the world. The eyes are expressly provided with curtains that can be drawn down in the day, and a second, most of us would be thankful if we could close our eyes or noses as easily and quickly as we can our eyes. Whenever possible, therefore, in the course of each busy and fatiguing day, let the eyes be closed for short periods many times.

OPPOSE CHANGE IN Y. W. RULE

Members of Ohio Baptist Association Urge Retention of Church Membership Qualification.

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, O., Dec. 13.—The Ohio Baptist association has adopted a resolution protesting against a proposed change in the constitution of the Young Women's Christian association which would make actual membership of a church an unnecessary condition to membership in student associations. The resolution declares that the association regret that such a step is contemplated and urges upon its members loyal adherence to the high evangelical ideas which have heretofore characterized its work.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mrs. Howland, her pupils gave an exhibit of china-painting today in the Stone hall parlors, which has been greatly admired for the dainty and up-to-date designs and the clean workmanship.

Today was set apart for the registration of pupils expecting to return to Denison, next term. Pupils entering next term for the first time or following an absence, will register on January 7. This year's adoption of the three terms instead of the customary two semesters is one of the many temporary changes noted at Denison.

A new ruling for the students' army training corps requires that the men shall be sent home as fast as mustered out instead of being held in a body until December 20 to receive their full equipment. Those first to depart will be those who do not intend to return to college.

Dr. Loveless, the health officer, states that on the whole the flu situation in the village is greatly improved (and that the young people in the college hospitals are doing nicely). One very serious case of pneumonia is being cared for in the Phi Delta hospital on the hill.

Afternoon and evening classes in nursing are being held in the usual today by Mrs. Frank Ray, and the lessons have reached a high degree of interest and real profit. Practical demonstrations of bedside methods in caring for patients variously afflicted, have been greatly enjoyed by the pupils. Final examinations will be held next Tuesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. George F. Nichols.

Installation exercises at Center Star lodge, F. & A. M., No. 11, were held Thursday evening, followed by a supper in the club room. Names of the officers: J. J. Wright, W. M.; H. W. Denning, S. W.; W. A. Barnes, J. W.; L. A. Austin, treasurer; T. G. Baker, secretary; T. W. Phillips, S. D.; E. Friedl, J. W.; W. Carpenter, tiler; John Thomas and Ed Evans, stewards; A. Norris, chaplain. Among those present from out-of-town were: Dr. W. H. Sedgwick and E. S. Miller of Newark.

The Women's Guild is prepared to provide the home-made baking for many a Sunday dinner. Go to the gas office Saturday afternoon, anytime after 2:30 o'clock.

Chicago Meeting Adjourns Without Agreeing On Plan to Combat Disease—Much Data Gathered.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Unable to formulate a definite plan for fighting influenza, because of divergent views, the American Public Health Association, before it adjourned yesterday, gave out copies of all the medical and scientific data presented during the four-day discussion, with an explanation that different epidemics required separate treatments.

"The various communities for which we are working will know that we have at hand the best available information science has yet discovered concerning the disease," said Dr. Charles J. Hastings of Toronto, Canada, retiring president.

"We can not expect to draw up a definite program for combating influenza epidemics when we see so wide a divergence of opinion among medical authorities as has been shown here," Dr. S. W. Welch of Montgomery, Ala., said.

"After all, it is a question of applying to your own community the most practical remedies for the conditions encountered there," Dr. J. W. Hughes of Detroit, led the argument against closing public meetings, theatres, schools and stores.

Federick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., reporting for the committee on vital statistics, said nearly 400,000 had died in this country the past three months, and they were chiefly men between 20 and 40 years old.

Chicago Grain and Provision.
Chicago, Dec. 12.—Weathering a bad and strengthening influence today on the corn market. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1-16 higher with January, $1.50 1-5 to $1.56 3-8, and May $1.35 1-2 to $1.36 1-2, were followed by moderate general gains and then something of a reaction.

Oats paralleled the action of corn. After opening unchanged to 3-8c higher, they were followed by moderate gains and then something of a reaction.

Weakness in the hog market operated as a weight on provision. Forecasts of immense meat shipments were current though, and declines did not go far.

Wall Street.
New York, Dec. 12.—Transportation and kindred issues including shippings and equipments registered further moderate losses at the opening of today's stock market on further selling attributed to the administration's attitude toward the railroads.

Reactions among leaders were confined to substantial fractions. Oils and motors were very irregular, Mexican Petroleum and Studebaker gaining a point each, while Texas company and others were decidedly confusing. Obscure specialties made irregular advances, while General Electric, Pullman and local tracings were heavy. Bonds of the latter group showed increased weakness. Rails, shippings and steels

Fourteen Year Old Boy, With Bullet In Leg Awaits Return of His Mother.

Harvey Welch, 14, son of James Welch of South Euclid Vista street was accidentally shot Thursday afternoon when the revolver he was handling was discharged.

The boy and his sister were alone in the house and he took the gun from a safe board drawer saying he was going to put it up stairs out of the way. He put the gun in his trouser pocket and as he ascended the stairs the gun was discharged. This was about two o'clock and the children told no one until the mother returned about 4 o'clock. Criss Bros. ambulance was called and the boy was taken to Dr. Shivers' office where an X ray was taken to determine the course of the bullet which had entered the leg above the knee. The boy's father stated that he was unaware of cartridge being in the gun which was a 32 calibre.

YANKEE BOXERS WIN ALLIED TOURNAMENT

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Dec. 12.—American boxers won five finals in the lightweight division in the closing bouts of the international boxing tournament here tonight. The final point standings of the American teams were: Army 39; Navy 32.

The British army led with 50 points. While American army teams failed to equal the points piled up by the British army earlier in the tournament, the surprise of the evening was the defeat of Jimmy White, the English heavyweight champion, by Pat Moore, of Memphis, fighting with the American navy team. White is a favorite here and the decision was unpopular. J. W. Driscoll, trainer of the British team, announced however, that he was satisfied the decision was correct.

Cal Delaney, 46, of Detroit, American navy, was defeated by Sergeant Johnny Thompson, British army champion, well-fortified of Great Britain in the finals.

RAIL HEAD WILL NOT TAKE M'ADOO'S PLACE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 12.—Although Director General McAdoo has not yet found a candidate to recommend for the position to succeed himself, it was stated today that the man who will not be primarily a railroad executive, this was considered as disposing of various rumors revolving about prominent railway managers said to be under consideration for the office of the director general. The administration wants a man who will regard the railroads from the outside rather than the inside, it was explained.

Reports that Mr. McAdoo was considering remaining indefinitely as acting director general after January 1 also were specifically denied today.

Theodore A. Price has resigned as a member of the McAdoo's advisory council and expects to return to his business in New York about January. He has acted as secretary of the railroad administration and director of educational work.

FORMER EMPRESS HAS ATTACK HEART TROUBLE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Amsterdam, Thursday, Dec. 12.—The former German empress has suffered another serious heart attack and a doctor has been summoned from Berlin, according to dispatches received here.

MRS. CARL KOEHLERS.
Mrs. Carl Koehlers, age 30, wife of Carl Koehlers formerly of Newark, died at 5 a.m. Friday, November 29 at Cincinnati following an illness of ten days of influenza which developed into pneumonia.

She leaves her husband and two children Frederick aged 9 and Dorothy aged 4. Her parents, three sisters and three brothers also survive. Burial was at Green Lawn cemetery, Columbus, Ohio.

DIVORCE PETITION.

Carl L. Wheeler has filed a petition in the court of common pleas against Eva Wheeler. They were married March 23, 1917, and are the parents of one child, aged one year, which has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson. The petition alleges that the defendant has been unfaithful while her husband has been in the military service of the United States, since July, 1917, to Nov. 23, 1918. He asks for a divorce and all proper relief.

JOHN BRATTON.

John Bratton aged 71, a retired farmer, died this morning at 11:30 at his home in Hudson township, after a two months illness of dropsy.

His wife, three daughters and one son, Mrs. Martha Wolf of the Wilkins Run Road, Mrs. Alice Bonds of Clay Lick, Mrs. Heckleberry of Seattle, Washington, and Peter Bratton of the home survive. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

LIEUTENANT FUNERAL.

The funeral of Walter Eugene Lugenbeal was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Criss Bros. undertaking parlors. Burial was made in Cedar Hill.

Presidential Succession.

The law of the presidential succession, passed in 1905, expressly states that in case of the death of both president and vice president the succession shall go to the members of the cabinet, beginning with the secretary of state, but only "such as are eligible to the office of president under the Constitution." If the secretary of state was foreign born, therefore, the succession would pass over him and go to the secretary of the treasury.

GOVERNMENT REDUCES TELEPHONE CHARGES FOR INSTALLATION

Postmaster General Burlington, now that the war is over, has issued an order effective at once, that a charge of only $3.50 instead of $5 shall be made for installing a telephone and a charge of only $1.50 instead of $5 for making vacant premises connection when the telephone of a former subscriber has not been removed.

There are other certain reductions in service charges contained in the same order which are too numerous to mention, but which will be explained to those interested upon application to the manager's office.

These reductions are made possible by the cessation of hostilities and a possibility of the employment of labor and material for which conservation is not as necessary at this time as it has been in the past. Subscribers who decided not to have telephones installed or moved on account of the expense incurred, can be now taken care of at these new rates, if application is made for the same. 12-9-11-13-16

PORT FOR INLAND NATIONS

Project That Has Aroused Much Interest in Commercial Circles in Switzerland and France.
here by the death of his grandmother Mrs. Wolever of Riley street.
Manager Appleyard III.
T. J. Appleyard, Jr., manager of the Chamber of Commerce, is confined to his home in West End street, suffering from a heavy cold.

A project to provide an independent Atlantic port for Switzerland, Bohemia and other inland European nations in order to render them economically independent of Germany after the war is receiving attention in France and Switzerland, according to a report to the department of commerce from Consul General Ravndal at Nantes, France.
This project, the consul states, has aroused much interest at Nantes, where municipal authorities are conferring with commercial interests in Switzerland with a view to combined action. The business men of Lyons also are said to be watching the movement with deep interest, although they have not yet joined it. The general idea seems to be to construct suitable rail connections between the inland production centers and one of the Loire ports—Nantes, St. Nazaire, La Rochelle or Bordeaux. It is also thought possible the project may be forwarded by the construction of canals linking up the Rhine and Rhone rivers with the navigable lake system of Switzerland.

Existing railroads are available to form the backbone of such construction. Port facilities already have been developed at several of the ports because of war demands and railroad yards and warehouses ample for the beginners of such a project are available at Nantes and St. Nazaire.
It is thought that after the war American passenger and freight traffic with central Europe as well as with France will tend toward the Loire ports in preference to the more distant channel and North sea ports, which, owing to their location and meteorological conditions, increase the cost of navigation and insurance.

AFTER "ZEMPSHUN" MONEY

Darkey Had Somewhat Misunderstood the Situation, But He Was Used to Disappointment.

Trilled by his wife and 11 children, ranging from stout cornfield hands to bow-legged toddlers, an old darkey made his way from office to office in the federal building at Asheville, N. C., seeking his "zempsahun."

Finally reaching the city exemption board, he said: "Boss, I done come for my zempsahun money." The clerk did not understand him. "You mean your pension money, don't you?" queried the clerk. The old man shook his head. "No, sir, boss; I mean de $2,000 de gabment 'lows married folks."

Further inquiry disclosed that the old man had heard some one say the government allowed the head of a family $2,000 exemption under the income tax law, and he understood this to mean that the government would pay him $2,000.

He accepted the news that there was nothing coming to him philosophically.

"Jest like after tuther wah," he remarked. "Dey say den us darkeys gwine fer to git a mule apiece and we ain't nebbber got none."

The early bird catches the worm, but the trout fisherman prefers the artificial fly.

FORGER BOLTS AS SUTER GRABS GUN

Name of Grocer on Check Is Clever Forgery, Police Declare—Man Makes Escape.

No clue has been obtained of the young man who attempted to pass a forged check on Cashier Norton Suter at the First National bank yesterday afternoon and who ran out of the bank when he became suspicious that Suter was not satisfied that the check was genuine, the latter firing several shots in the air to attract the attention of pedestrians in South Park Place, thinking they might catch the fleeing man.

The youth presented a counter check for $50, signed by C. A. Grill, the South End grocerman, and the young man endorsed it with the name of Paul Jones. Suter, who knows Grill's signature, saw that it was a clever imitation and also knew that if Mr. Grill had issued the check he would have used his own private printed check from his check book.

Asked how he had obtained the check the young forger replied that he had sold Grill an order of canned goods. Suter then called Grill up and talked to him, the young man standing at the window viewing during the conversation. He then noticed Suter move over and reach under the counter and the fellow, knowing that the cashier was reaching for a gun, bolted out of the door. Suter followed, fired the shots and President Ned Wright of the bank chased the forger down the ledge alley and he then ran east in Canal street to Second, where Mr. Wright abandoned the chase and the fellow continued to Spencer street, down the alley through the old Korzen-born brewery and there the clerk was lost.

The forger is a stranger and a most excellent penman. Chief Sheridan states that the forged name is almost an exact reproduction of the signature of Mr. Grill.

SANTA CLAUS CLUB TO BRING XMAS TO ALL

Listen kiddies, dear! Santa Claus is coming this year!
Under the auspices of the Santa Claus club, which was organized by a group of business and professional men this week, a large amount of money has been provided to buy toys for every child who will have no Christmas this year.
As in former years the Elks club will furnish baskets of food to the poor of the city, but this year that work will be augmented by another group of men who have taken upon themselves to furnish the toys. These Santa Claus men will make up a list of every home where there is a child or children, who will not have Christmas and these will be favored by a visit of the mythical Christmas saint.
The lists are being secured from reliable sources, and any one knowing of such a child, are asked to call 1308 leave the name, whether the child is a boy or a girl and give the age—then Santa Claus will come.

A SAFE AND SANE INVESTMENT

It is as plain as the proverbial "handwriting on the wall," that food prices will not decline, but are expected by authoritative sources to soar skyward this winter and early spring. European governments are still placing restrictions on the consumption of foods by their subjects. Each persons allotment has, as yet, not been increased, but when the restrictions are lifted, their demand will double, triple and quadruple. The demand will naturally greatly exceed the supply. There is nothing short of a phenomena that can keep food prices from soaring.

Have you laid away sufficient groceries for the winter and spring? Have you prepared for the "rainy day"? Waiting will get you nothing. The law of supply and demand, coupled with present conditions, are arguments enough that food prices will be on the increase. Invest your Christmas club money in groceries. It will bring you the greatest returns. We have bought wisely and therefore are able to greatly help you prepare.

Starting this Saturday, December 14, we will launch one of the most gigantic sales this city has ever witnessed. We have a small surplus of stock on hand which we will place at your disposal during this sale. After this surplus is disposed of we will be compelled to raise prices according to the market. Be wise and play safe; make your Christmas money do double duty during this sale.

CUT THIS OUT

Old English Recipe for Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the benefactor of some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness. Closed nostrils should open, the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional cure of the eye, ear and nose and is especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Epsom salt (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmit used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh of the nose, ears or throat of hearing should give this treatment a trial. T. J. Evans.—(Adv.)

REPORTED MISSING, SON WRITES OF HIS WOUND

Although Granville E. Thompson, living near Newark, has received official notification that his son Orville W. Thompson of the infantry, has been reported as missing in action since November 7, the family does not feel alarmed as they have had a letter from their son dated November 12, saying he was wounded.

will drop you a few lines this afternoon to let you know I am still among the living and am feeling pretty good. "Old Bill" worked on me one night last week, but I got off lucky. I was wounded with a shrapnel shell in the left hip and right leg, but you need not worry as neither one is bad. I am in a hospital so you know I am being taken care of. I guess by the way things look now she is about the same as ever, and we are certainly all glad of it.

you for I am getting good care and was up and walked around a little this evening so you see I am not in bad shape and also feel that I got off lucky."

Cambridge—A slight improvement was reported Thursday afternoon in the condition of L. H. Slocumb who has been seriously ill. Dr. Roure of Newark and Mr. Slocumb's brother of Hebron arrived in Cambridge Wednesday.

Cambridge—Noble county men sent a lengthy petition to the postoffice department, Washington, D. C., asking that a motor truck mail line be established between Marietta and Cambridge.

FEDERAL ORDER SHUTS OFF GAS IN FACTORIES

The order of the United States fuel administration issued today to eight gas companies, directing that they shall discontinue the sale of natural gas for use as fuel in industries, will have no effect on Newark.

NEWARK MAN ON ARMY TRUCK INJURING GUARD

An army truck said to have been driven by E. M. Lyons of Newark, ran down Private Donald B. Bollinger, of the provost guard, at Camp Sherman, Thursday. With one arm dangling helplessly at his side and his abdomen crushed by the weight of the seven-ton truck which passed over his body, Bollinger jumped to his feet before bystanders could reach him to ascertain for himself if his legs were broken. He
